

WiFi & 5G—Safe? NOT!

WiFi is already ubiquitous, with most homes, schools & businesses having a wireless network. 5G is the next-generation mobile 'phone carrier technology, and will operate on various wavebands up to 26 GHz and eventually, at higher frequencies, so-called 'millimetre waves' of 30-300 Ghz.

Although we are told that WiFi and 5G are safe, an emerging body of scientific evidence is showing this not to be the case. All manner of deleterious health effects are noted.

Proven problems with WiFi:

- Insomnia
- Cognitive impairment
- Impaired sperm quality & motility
- Ovum abnormalities
- DNA damage
- Oxidative tissue damage
- Cell metabolism disruption
- Blood cell damage
- Cardiac stress
- Cancer

Additionally for 5G:

- Skin diseases
- Eye lens opacity
- Heart arrhythmia
- Immune system suppression
- Depressed cell growth
- Damage to plants and animals, especially insects
- 5G mm waves blocked by buildings & trees (especially in full leaf and wet). Tens of thousands of urban trees felled to make way for 5G

What Can I Do?

- Use a wired Ethernet network connection whenever possible
- Switch WiFi off & set mobile devices to flight mode at night
- Limit mobile phone usage, especially that of your children
- Complain to Ofcom about the known dangers & lack of safety research
- Make a Freedom of Information (Fol) request
- Phone / write to / e-mail your local councillors / MP / MEPs
- Phone into local or national radio programmes
- Write to newspapers
- Post about it in your social media networks
- Tell your friends, relatives, neighbours & work colleagues
- Print more of these leaflets and distribute them locally

qui tacet consentire videtur - "who is silent is seen to consent"
